Re: United States v. Nicholas Tartaglione 16-cr-832 (KMK)

Dear Judge Karas:

Susan Wolfe and I had been struggling with how best to handle the PSI given the mandatory sentence. Moreover, our focus had been on the Rule 33, and, frankly, we did not focus on the PSI, given the mandatory sentence.

Mr. Tartaglione has maintained his innocence, and we ask to be permitted to impose a general objection to the factual/offense conduct and guidelines portions of the Report based on that factual/offense conduct. Part of our delay in getting this to the Court was the vagaries of the MDC so that we could make sure there were no other corrections to the personal history.

Mr. Tartaglione may maintain his innocence, but any facts in the PSR that do not directly address his guilt/innocence to which no objection is lodged could be accepted by the Court and any subsequent objection could be deemed to have been waived. The Court defers to counsel as to how they want to handle this possibility.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Inga L. Parsons
